$15 per class

Communication Matters proudly sponsors this inexpensive program to benefit the children in our community!

Play 'n' Chat is a unique class that offers the opportunity for preschool aged children with speech and language delays to participate in a developmentally appropriate fun playgroup. Parents participate and also have the chance to talk with other parents who "get it". Children do not need to be enrolled in speech therapy in order to join. Led by Mindy Newhouse, Speech Language Pathologist, each class includes developmental play, introduction to circle time, and arts and crafts. Questions and idea sharing are welcome! Friendships encouraged!
